

Good Morning Board: Grade 5, Prepare, Module 2

The Writing Academy | Purpose and Audience Change the Response

Day	GRADUATE Stage	Yesterday We Learned	Today We Will...	Passage(s)	Supplies	Quick Think	Thinking Level
1	Gather + Reveal	Last module, we learned the complete Writer Decision Chain and taught it to a partner.	Discover how purpose and audience change genre, detail, style, and register using the Cookie passages.	"The Great Chocolate Chip Cookie Mystery"	Passage, Pencil, Highlighter	Would you write the same way for your principal and your best friend? Why or why not?	Foundational
2	Attempt	We explored how the same topic can lead to different genres depending on purpose and audience.	Play Same Topic, Different Job: read the writing situation, name your genre and strategy, then defend your choice.	"The Great Chocolate Chip Cookie Mystery"	Passage, Pencil, Route cards	How does knowing your audience help you decide what details to include?	Emergent
3	Discuss + Use	We practiced proposing and defending genre choices when the topic stays the same but the job changes.	Explain how one fiction source supports different response genres. Write a personal narrative about a time new information changed your perspective.	"The Great Chocolate Chip Cookie Mystery"	Passage, Pencil, Workbook	Can the same passage help you write both a narrative and an informational piece? How?	Visible
4	Award + Target	We explained genre flexibility and drafted a personal narrative about changed thinking.	Locate growth evidence and name a precise next action. Partners point to one decision and one next step.	"The Great Chocolate Chip Cookie Mystery"	Passage, Pencil, Workbook	What is one writing decision you made this week that you are proud of?	Independent
5	Educate + Explain	We identified specific growth evidence and set precise revision targets with a partner.	Teach the complete decision chain with evidence. Reconstruct the Genre Compass and create a fresh writing job.	"The Great Chocolate Chip Cookie Mystery"	Passage, Pencil, Author-Educator Card	Why is it important to justify your genre choice with evidence before you start writing?	Reflective
